

 Cover Story A “dilemma” called food inflation*9

Our Cover Story for this issue is about inflation in the economy, and its key role in policy determination. We look at the causes of high food inflation prevailing in the country, and the role of the policymakers to reduce supply-side bottlenecks. We finally take a look at the steps that policymakers need to initiate to bring inflation down to tolerable levels, particularly in terms of the supply-side, which would require sustained efforts for long-term results.

 By Invitation

Currency derivatives: An effective hedging tool	12
--	-----------

 Features

Credit policy: RBI walking a tightrope	7
---	----------

Commodity futures: Is the time ripe for institutional entry?	14
---	-----------

New currency pairs: A blessing in disguise?	16
--	-----------

CFTC positional limits: A primer	20
---	-----------

Copenhagen Summit 2009: ‘A tragedy of commons’	23
---	-----------

Diagonal triangle: A trend reversal pattern	25
--	-----------

 Updates

Bullion and energy review	26
----------------------------------	-----------

Base metals review	28
---------------------------	-----------

Agri commodity review	30
------------------------------	-----------